Commencement Program

Congratulations!

Commencement is one of my favorite times of the year. I'm honored to celebrate this day with the graduates, their families, friends, faculty, staff and everyone who makes Rowan College at Burlington County such a special place.

I offer my sincerest congratulations to our graduates on reaching this important milestone. Your determination, resilience and passion have brought you to this moment, and I know you will continue to achieve great things in the years ahead. As you embark on the next chapter of your journey, please carry forward the knowledge, skills and values instilled in you during your time at RCBC.

To the faculty and staff who have dedicated themselves to the success of our students, thank you for your unwavering commitment and dedication. Your guidance, mentorship and support have played a pivotal role in shaping the lives of our graduates and preparing them for the opportunities and challenges that lie ahead.

After each ceremony, please join us in the Student Success Center to continue the celebration with light refreshments provided by the RCBC Foundation.

Today is your day – enjoy it!

PRESIDENT'S AWARD | Aislynn Fait

Aislynn Fait is a shining example of overcoming adversity. Although she faced many obstacles in her educational career, she is graduating this May with a 3.8 GPA and endless possibilities.

Fait struggled with her education before entering college. Due to family health and financial troubles, she was home-schooled until 17. Her schooling often departed from traditional curriculum courses, leaving gaps in her knowledge. Fait said she entered college with a 5th—or 6th-grade education level in certain subjects.

“I didn’t have access to the resources I needed for my education. There were a lot of things I was never taught about until college. I also struggled with social interaction because I wasn’t around other kids while being homeschooled. I wouldn’t change any of it, though, because it made me stronger,” she said.

In the fall of 2021, Fait took the leap from homeschooling by joining Rowan College at Burlington County to pursue a Liberal Arts degree, later adding Sciences to the mix. When starting college, Fait was unsure what she wanted to do yet was intrigued by the new opportunities opening up. She would go on to not only complete her coursework but also work multiple jobs on campus and pilot many community projects.

“After starting college, I realized I love education, learning new things, challenging myself with new topics, helping others and working for my community. I just love to be able to do impactful things,” Fait said.

Fait got her first-ever job at RCBC shortly after her arrival, working as a student ambassador for the Food Pantry and the Experiential Learning Program. While working at the Food Pantry, Fait accepted increasing responsibility for organizing the pantry until she became a team leader. Fait immensely enjoyed the opportunity to give back to her community. As a student ambassador for the Experiential Learning Program, she headed many service projects, including a blood drive and a dog toy-making event for an animal shelter.

Her path of giving back did not end there. In fall 2023, Fait became the representative for RCBC in the Camp 2030 Program, through which young leaders from throughout the world gathered in New York to develop solutions to global problems. Through her work in the program, her team devised a plan against food waste by proposing that grocery stores give their old food to food waste facilities instead of throwing it away. Thanks to her insightful thinking, her team won first place.

For her last two semesters at RCBC, Fait became a student worker for the Career Services Department.

“I’ve enjoyed helping students find career opportunities,” she said. “I’ve always focused on helping people, but I think this way, I can give back to people who started just like me and maybe didn’t know exactly what they were doing. It feels very full-circle giving back in this way at the end of my time at RCBC.”

After graduating with an associate degree in Liberal Arts and Sciences, Aislynn plans to take her time finding a new career path and college. Much like when she started college, her opportunities are wide open. Although she doesn’t know her next move, helping people is her main objective.

“Everything I’ve done at RCBC shows I want to engage with people and the world around me. Coming from a place where I didn’t have much education and socialization, I want to center my life around people, learning and becoming,” she said.

PRESIDENT'S AWARD | Joseph Vercillo

Joseph Vercillo embarked on a remarkable journey of profound personal transformation through Rowan College at Burlington County 20 years after his last educational experience.

Vercillo, originally from Canada, started from scratch after spending years drifting from various jobs without a firm career path. With the encouragement of his wife, he decided to pursue his lifelong dream of becoming a firefighter, attending fire school and joining volunteer fire departments while working toward a career in firefighting.

To enhance his resume, he enrolled in RCBC's EMT program, developing a love for emergency medicine that spurred him to apply for and complete RCBC's competitive nursing program at 43. Returning to school filled him with uncertainty. However, instead of being hindered by self-doubts, he used them as fuel for motivation. "It's never too late," he said.

His nursing journey included some obstacles, including visa complications that forced him to take a sabbatical for a year, compounded by the death of his mother in December. His mom always provided him with unwavering support throughout his academic journey. Despite the devastating blow, Vercillo found solace in honoring her memory and persevering through his studies, drawing strength from her example of resilience and courage in the face of adversity.

Vercillo acknowledges the shared struggles and triumphs of nursing school, emphasizing the bond his classmates had formed through their experiences in the program. He advises others considering a career shift: "Don't make excuses about why you can't do something; put effort into pursuing your goals."

Vercillo plans to continue his education through a master's degree in nursing and eventually become a nurse practitioner or delve into medical research. After graduation, he plans to join Penn Medicine's residency program in the Operating Room.

In the face of adversity, Joseph Vercillo's story is a testament to his resolve and tenacity to achieve his dreams. Vercillo is steadfast in realizing his five-year personal and professional growth plan, striving to become the best version of himself possible.

PRESIDENT'S AWARD | Taiwo Adekunle

Growing up in Western Nigeria, Taiwo Adekunle dreamed of becoming a fashion designer. However, this wasn't an option in her home country, which considered fashion more practical and a skilled trade than a prestigious pursuit.

She studied more conventional academic topics—sociology and anthropology—before her family abruptly moved to the United States. The move wiped out three years of education, and any pursuit of higher education would have to start over in a country and culture completely different from her home.

“After many nights of crying and facing the fear of uncertainty, I was frustrated and almost snowballed into depression. I contemplated abandoning my educational pursuits altogether,” Adekunle said. Yet, a glimmer of hope emerged when I learned about Rowan College at Burlington County from a family friend. I summoned the courage to embark on a new path.”

Adekunle decided to study fashion and chase her childhood dream, which was nearly impossible in Nigeria.

Adekunle's renewed sense of purpose drove her to be a campus leader as part of the Student Government Association. She participated in, if not organized, many events on campus, engaged in the student research program to study sustainable materials in fashion and showcased her skills in fashion shows connected to the college as well as professionally, such as the Newark Fashion Week Festival Designer's Competition.

Off-campus, Adekunle is equally ambitious. An aspiring entrepreneur, she is establishing an athletic clothing line, Trybeflex, aimed at connecting people with their homeland while they exercise and feel good about themselves.

Her goal is to launch culturally appropriate attire one culture at a time – started with her African roots, of course – for people who are either homesick or looking to connect with their family's heritage, even if they're generations removed from that place.

For a woman who had to be plucked from her home to achieve her dream, her business model should have roots in easing immigrants' homesickness. It's equally fitting that a girl who dreamed of being a fashion designer in a country that doesn't value the career path came to America to earn a degree in fashion and get her start in the industry. She plans to study this fall at the Fashion Institute of Technology.

Gregg Murphy

Gregg Murphy joined the Phillies television broadcast team in 2012, bringing viewers closer to the action by reporting from the field, dugouts and elsewhere throughout the ballpark during games. He added some play-by-play duties in 2014 and continued in both roles through the 2020 season. In 2021, Gregg moved over to the radio side to handle pre- and postgame show duties, while filling in for Scott Franzke on play-by-play throughout the season.

Originally hired as part of the on-air team at NBC Sports Philadelphia in December 2008, Gregg is a multiple Emmy winner and nominee in numerous categories, including sports reporting. He was also recognized twice as the winner of the Associated Press Outstanding Talk Program for “Out of Bounds,” a program he hosted earlier in his career.

Before joining NBC Sports Philadelphia, he was at CN8, “The Inquirer High School Sports Show,” and WFMZ in Allentown, Pa.

A 1993 graduate of St. Joseph’s University with a degree in English, Gregg has reported on many notable sports events, including the NCAA Tournament, Super Bowl, World Series and NBA Finals.

Born in Meadowbrook, Pa., Gregg was raised in Mount Laurel and attended Holy Cross High School. He gives his time and hosting talents to the Families Behind the Badge Foundation, which benefits Philadelphia police officers.

A blood cancer survivor, Gregg was also named the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society’s Visionary of the Year in 2023. Gregg lives in Mullica Hill with his wife Christa. Together they have five children: one daughter, Quinn, and four sons, Matthew, Colin, Shane and Beckett.

Phillip D. Murphy

Philip D. Murphy took the oath of office for a second term as New Jersey's 56th governor on January 18, 2022. He is the first Democratic governor to serve a second term in 44 years.

Since taking office in 2018, Governor Murphy has focused on building a stronger, fairer, and more affordable New Jersey. Under his leadership, New Jersey has made strides in growing the state's economy and creating new economic opportunity while shrinking longstanding inequities, restoring fiscal responsibility to state government while expanding critical investments, and delivering real tax fairness and relief, including 14 tax cuts for New Jersey's middle class and seniors.

Governor Murphy guided New Jersey from being the epicenter of the COVID-19 pandemic to a model state for following the highest level of public health standards and data-driven response, implementing among the nation's most robust vaccination efforts and fostering a strong economic recovery. Over the course of two years, the Murphy Administration has provided billions of dollars in state and federal relief to small businesses, schools, homeowners, tenants, and landlords, and middle-class families.

Governor Murphy has put a special emphasis on making New Jersey more welcoming to both established high-tech enterprises and start-up companies in the innovation economy. In January 2021, he enacted a new set of state economic incentives, focused on promoting the growth of new small businesses and innovative startups, enacting the state's first tax credits for historic preservation, and expanding credits for brownfields reclamation and redevelopment, among other initiatives.

Under Governor Murphy's leadership, New Jersey had already emerged as a national leader on a number of nationally significant issues prior to the pandemic. He secured the dignity of working families by moving to a $15-per-hour minimum wage, guaranteeing earned sick days, and expanding paid family leave. The governor has enacted initiatives to provide a tuition-free public college education for qualified students. He has embraced policies that have driven down the cost of healthcare. He has expanded protections for the state's immigrant and LGBTQIA+ communities. And he has enacted and proposed gun safety laws to combat gun violence and promote responsible gun ownership.

Governor Murphy has also made New Jersey a model state for social justice through fostering the state's nascent adult-use cannabis industry, enacting among the country's strongest automatic voter registration measures, restoring voting rights to individuals on parole or probation, expunging the records of numerous non-violent offenders, and creating the nation's strongest provisions for environmental justice, alongside numerous other new laws. He has also put a focus on eliminating stigma and promoting a compassionate approach to tackling opioid misuse.

From 2009 until 2013, Governor Murphy served as the United States Ambassador to The Federal Republic of Germany, appointed by President Obama.

Prior to entering public life, Governor Murphy worked for over twenty years at Goldman Sachs, starting as an intern in 1982 and ending in 2003 as a member of the firm's management committee. During his business career, he led offices in Frankfurt, Germany, and Hong Kong.

The youngest of four children of the late Walter F. Murphy, Sr. and Dorothy Murphy, Governor Murphy was born in Boston, Massachusetts on August 16, 1957, and was raised in both Newton and nearby Needham, Massachusetts.

The Governor is a graduate of Needham High School, Harvard University, and The Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania. He has been awarded numerous honorary degrees.

Governor Murphy and his wife, Tammy Snyder Murphy, reside in Middletown, Monmouth County, and are the parents of four children: Josh, Emma, Charlie, and Sam.
